By submitting artwork to the 2019 MLK Day Art Contest you (and your parent/guardian) agree that the Yale Peabody Museum of Natural History may display the artwork, and you (and your parent/guardian) grant permission to the Yale Peabody Museum to reproduce the artwork for the Museum's promotional uses, both print and electronic, including but not limited to the Museum's newsletter, advertisements, press releases, brochures and on the Peabody web site. Art work must be received at the Museum during business hours, or by mail, no later than Friday, January 18, 2019.

You (and your parent/guardian) confirm that you are currently attending high school in Connecticut and that the submitted artwork is original and created by you. Display of artwork will be at the sole discretion of the Yale Peabody Museum. The Museum will exercise due care and respect for the art work. You (and your parent/guardian) agree not to hold the Museum liable for any damage while the artwork is in the possession of the Museum. Prize winners will be chosen at the sole discretion of the Yale Peabody Museum and will be notified by mail. The decisions of the Yale Peabody Museum judges are final. Artwork will be returned on request.

By participating in the 2019 MLK Day Art Contest you (and your parent/guardian) agree to give the Yale Peabody Museum the irrevocable right to record and use your image and/or voice in all forms, media and manners for educational, promotional, advertising, or any other lawful purpose, without compensation, and agree to waive any right to inspect or approve the finished version(s).

By submitting this registration form and artwork to the 2019 MLK Day Art Contest, you (and your parent/guardian) agree to these terms and conditions.
